

AT PACIFIC UNIVERSITY

...you'll be a
personality

HERE AT PACIFIC YOU ARE AN INDIVIDUAL

*Down winding paths
you will walk among stately century-old trees.*

*Personal assistance
by instructors is ready for you.*

On this beautiful campus, isolated from outside interference, men and women enjoy liberal benefits in a small independent University of high academic standing.

If you are interested in personal contacts and the friendly relationships in small classes and a limited student body, the situation in Forest Grove is ideal. You will know your instructors personally, and almost everyone else in the Pacific U. family from the President's office to the far corners of the campus. Student representatives even meet with University officers to help solve campus problems.

*Paint a picture,
or merely learn
to appreciate art
if you are inclined.*

You can study in these fields: Art, biology, business administration, chemistry, drama, economics, English, foreign languages, history and political science, home economics, journalism, literature, mathematics, medical technology, music, nursing, optometry, philosophy, physical education and health, physics, religion, sociology, speech, teaching (elementary and high school).

Living is the way you like it in comfortable dormitories and houses. Athletics, student government, clubs and honor societies plus alive fraternities and sororities give each student his activities.

Student aid for worthy individuals includes scholarships, loan funds, and part-time employment.

*Photography, like other laboratory
courses, has
complete practical facilities.*

Singing and vocal study combine with instrumental work to provide an extensive music program.

Old College Hall is the oldest college building on the West's oldest campus.

YOUR COLLEGE EDUCATION IS IMPORTANT

To make your education worthwhile, Pacific's program is modernized each year; additional instructors are added, and buildings and equipment improved.

Few persons can afford to take lightly the significance of advanced education. Read the available literature about your particular interests in school. Send for catalogs and specific facts to get you started right in the right university.
