WITHOUT FINANCIAL AID ?

FRANK AND PAULINE ON CAMPUS, 1940

Dr. Francis J. Dierickx '41 and his wife, the former Pauline Heisler '42, could not have attended Pacific were it not for the half-tuition scholarships they received during their first two years. Each went on to do graduate work, with Frank earning the M. D. degree from Creighton University in 1944. His practice is now located in Oregon City, where he has been since 1948. He has served as president of the County Medical Association, was twice president of the Clackamas County Physicians Association Insurance Company, and claims membership in the AMA and local Chamber of Commerce. Pauline has three years of teaching on the elementary level to her credit, two in Omaha and one in Forest Grove. They have six sons to occupy their spare time, ranging in age from 6 to 18. The oldest, Frank Jr., is a Pacific freshman this year.

SCHOLARSHIPS HAVE HELPED MANY ALUMNI THROUGH COLLEGE

Many of you, our 4800 alumni, have achieved responsible positions in all walks of life. Your education at Pacific helped prepare you for this success. Without scholarship aid this education and subsequent success might not have been yours.

Perhaps you didn't receive a scholarship as such, but the cost of your education was more than what you actually paid. One-third of it was financed through contributions from alumni and friends of the University.

Isn't it time now to provide the opportunity for others which was so generously provided for you?
