INSIDE

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY

FOREST GROVE, OREGON

PACIFIC'S DIFFERENCE IS A UNIQUE BLEND OF PROFESSIONAL AND TRADITIONAL PROGRAMS, AS WELL AS OPPORTUNITIES, PEOPLE AND VALUES — A BLEND DEVELOPED OVER 137 YEARS OF EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE. PACIFIC STUDENTS FIND THAT OUR DIFFERENCE BRINGS MEANING AND PRODUCTIVITY INTO THEIR CAREERS AND LIVES.

IF YOU ARE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE OF THE PACIFIC DIFFERENCE — A CHALLENGE OF HARD WORK, PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT, INTELLECTUAL DISCOVERY, AND CLOSE FRIENDSHIPS — THE BENEFITS OF OUR DIFFERENCE CAN BE YOURS.

THE SUCCESS OF OUR ALUMNI REFLECTS THE PACIFIC DIFFERENCE.

Our students have found Pacific to be a valuable investment.

Since 1860, Pacific graduates have made valuable contributions to their communities. They have served in the U.S. Congress and as leaders in the health professions, media, law, and business.

At Pacific, academic studies in the liberal arts, sciences and professional fields are enhanced by special programs and extra-curricular activities. The university subscribes to a philosophy that quality education is essential — that governing must include participation by those governed and that all participants should share in the work. As a result, Pacific students participate. They shape the very world in which they live and work — valuable preparation for their future.

THE WEALTH OF PACIFIC UNIVERSITY IS IN ITS RESOURCES.

Its human resources — students and faculty. Its physical resources — made possible by those who have supported its growth and enrichment.

The success of our graduates is attributed to The Pacific Difference — a commitment to providing a quality education to students with diverse backgrounds; and, through its programs, opportunities, and people, a commitment to contribute to each student's confidence, analytical skills, leadership, and values.

"Pacific is a 'storybook' place — a top-flight institution with a human touch, where students can come to know themselves, each other and their faculty.

"Pacific offers a partnership in which the student benefits in direct proportion to the time and effort he invests."

Leah Peldyak

"In an atmosphere that expects no less than your best, each student can leave their program prepared to be a true professional."

IN OUR SMALL CLASSES, YOU GET TO KNOW YOUR PROFESSORS—AND THEY KNOW YOU. Because Pacific is a small university, our students receive personalized instruction. Our classes are small; most range between 10 and 20 students. You will get to know your professors. And they will know you — by your first name. They'll come to know your strengths and weaknesses. And, they'll have time to help you turn those weaknesses into strengths.

In fact, our entire academic program has been designed to provide individual attention in instruction.

Our Study Skills Center links students with peers for tutoring in a wide range of subjects. Our Honors Program students enjoy team-instructed seminars and dinners in faculty homes. Our junior and senior students have the opportunity to create research projects under direct faculty supervision. Pacific students have time for studies and active club or organization involvement.

STUDENTS KNOW THEIR PROFESSORS AND USE OUR RESEARCH FACILITIES. The strength of any college or university can be measured by the quality of its faculty and facilities.

By the same token, the strength of any college's academic experience can be measured by the time each student spends with the faculty and in the facilities. Pacific University measures up.

Over 75 percent of Pacific's professors hold a doctoral degree. Faculty regularly present research in scholarly journals and at academic conferences. Pacific faculty members can be found in positions of responsibility in state and national professional organizations, and as leaders in politics, communications, and the arts.

Best of all, professors are at Pacific because they enjoy teaching. They are available on a day-to-day basis to answer questions, help you understand a difficult problem, or talk about your future.

AT PACIFIC, ACCESS TO MODERN TECHNOLOGY IS TAKEN FOR GRANTED. Our students are in direct contact with today's scientific communications and computer technology. Forest Grove is on the edge of high technology: the "Silicon Forest" of Oregon's electronic industry.

You will have the opportunity to work in modern, well-equipped science laboratories, any one of our microcomputer labs, or audio and television studios. Choose coursework in any of the health science programs and you will work with the latest diagnostic and rehabilitative equipment.

But most important, Pacific students do not stand in line to work with the technology of tomorrow.

That's another Pacific difference.

"The faculty are fantastic. They are willing to give that 'something extra' to help the student."

INVOLVEMENT

WE KNOW THAT EDUCATION DOESN'T ALWAYS REQUIRE A CLASSROOM. Lessons of leadership and responsibility are learned more often from participation than from lectures.

That's why we spend a great deal of time on extra-curricular activities, and why our students are involved in everything from varsity athletics to performing in a theatre production.

Varsity athletics include 46 percent of our undergraduates. Pacific teams operate on a "no-cut" philosophy, if you're willing to put in time and effort.

We offer nine intercollegiate sports for men and seven for women and operate junior-varsity squads in several sports. Our students enjoy modern health and weight training facilities, as well as racquetball courts, indoor and outdoor tennis courts, a fieldhouse with artificial turf, a dance studio, a wrestling room and a three-court gymnasium at the Pacific Athletic Center.

Clubs and organizations involve nearly every student on campus. Pacific has an organization for just about every interest and concern — you can spin records at the radio station, sing in the choir, and plan a weekend dance all within one week.

Career internships take our students away from the campus and put them on the job during the senior year. All of our internships earn academic credit; some of our interns earn money on the job as well.

Pacific's career internships are arranged through our academic departments. Students must apply, and may have to compete for a position. In the last several years Pacific students have interned in Congressional offices in Washington, D.C., in the headquarters of multinational corporations, and in Hollywood television production studios.

Career externships allow students to spend a week observing the day-to-day activities of people in various career environments.

Cultural and academic events featured at Pacific enrich your experience in our small community. During the past year, Pacific has sponsored presentations by:

- George McGovern and James Watt debating economy
- Journalist William F. Buckley
- Novelist Tom Wolfe
- Humorist Fran Liebowitz (David Letterman guest)
- Jazz Saxophonist Peter Winter
- Poet Maya Angelou
- Economist John Kenneth Galbraith
- Hortensia Allende on Chile's economy

PACIFIC PREPARES YOU FOR YOUR FIRST JOB AND EDUCATES YOU FOR THE REST OF YOUR LIFE.

Our blend of professional education with the traditional values of the arts and sciences allows us to offer our students a wide range of majors and programs. And, more importantly, we offer a wide range of courses within those programs, so that Pacific students receive instruction which is both job-relevant and life-enriching.

Pacific takes pride in its tradition of internships, study abroad, and hands-on learning in all fields.

Our doctoral programs in optometry and clinical psychology provide a national reputation which goes well beyond our size,

YOUR EDUCATION INCLUDES THE TIMELESS AND TIMELY.

We believe that certain, traditional parts of university life are essential and timeless.

Your education at Pacific will prepare you for your entry into professional employment, as well as with the skills and values important for a successful life and career — for the first week as an accountant, teacher, or therapist, as well as your tenth year as a partner, manager or owner.

PACIFIC STUDENTS ALSO STUDY OVERSEAS, OUT-OF-DOORS, IN FACULTY HOMES AND IN PROFESSIONAL SETTINGS.

Your course of study at Pacific is not limited to the campus. We offer special learning opportunities that take students away from the campus and into memorable learning experiences.

Overseas study allows qualified students to experience three months to a full academic year studying in Japan, England, France, Germany, Austria, Mexico, Spain, or Wales.

The Malheur Field Station in Eastern Oregon is a Pacific-operated study center in one of the nation's largest wildlife preserves. For periods of four days to three weeks, our students and faculty live and laugh together while learning about topics as diverse and related as geology, botany, and poetry. Courses are offered at Malheur during the summer and at different times in the academic year.

The Pacific Honors Program invites eligible students into faculty homes for dinner, discussion, and inter-disciplinary study. You may apply to the Honors Program in your freshman or sophomore year; your junior and senior year will include special individual tutorial, seminars, and research with a member of the faculty.

The Peace and Conflict Studies (PACS) Program examines the causes, nature, and solutions to international and personal conflict. PACS courses are taught by faculty from several departments.

The Cooperative 3-2 Programs enable our students to take advantage of specialized engineering courses. Students spend three years on campus at Pacific in preparation for two years of intense technical study at institutions such as the rapidly expanding Oregon Graduate Center and many other fine engineering schools.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS. Whether you'd like to become a doctor, electrical engineer, teacher, chemist, television producer, or one of the many other options available at Pacific, we are committed to giving you the education you need for now and throughout your life.

MANY OF OUR STUDENTS GO ON TO EARN PROFESSIONAL DEGREES AT PACIFIC.

Pacific has an internationally recognized College of Optometry, the only Physical Therapy master's program in Oregon, the only bachelor's program in Occupational Therapy in Oregon, and the only Doctor of Psychology program in the Northwest.

Our professional programs are selective. We tend to favor Pacific students over applicants from other colleges.

We offer "pre-professional" counseling to every student who has an interest in attending a professional school — and not just our professional schools. You may choose to receive pre-law, pre-medicine, or pre-graduate school counseling from a specially trained and experienced faculty member. You'd learn about the kinds of courses and abilities that professional schools look for; you'd also be notified of test dates, study sessions, and opportunities for interviews.

OUR CAMPUS IS 30 MINUTES WEST OF DOWNTOWN PORTLAND, OREGON; AND ONE HOUR FROM THE OCEAN OR THE MOUNTAINS.

The very location of Pacific University can make a big difference in your future.

The campus is in the center of Forest Grove, a friendly, small town of 12,000 that regards the University as part of the community.

Graced by towering oak and fir trees, the campus is an easy drive to the cliffs and beaches of Oregon's northern coast, the alpine and nordic skiing of the Cascade Range, or the clubs, shops, galleries, and theaters of downtown cosmopolitan Portland. (Regularly scheduled public transportation runs between the campus and Portland.)

The climate of Northwest Oregon is usually temperate in fall, winter and spring, while comfortably sunny in summer.

And, as home to intense learning and scholarship, the campus is no more than minutes away from the high-tech industries of Washington County, and the area's graduate, medical, and law schools.

As a result, the Pacific student benefits in three ways:

- You are a part of a caring community.
- You can take advantage of some of America's most spectacular scenery — or, the nightlife of a big city.

ADMISSIONS AND FINANCIAL

ASSISTANCE. At Pacific, the Offices of Admission and Student Financial Assistance are selective and supporting; they work together to ensure admitted students receive appropriate aid.

Every application for admission is reviewed by our admissions staff to determine a candidate's suitability for Pacific University.

We do our best to meet the demonstrated financial need of every admitted student. Pacific's commitment to high-quality education for students from various economic backgrounds is apparent in our awarding of financial assistance.

Costs for the 1986-87 academic year are as follows:

Tuition and Fees	$7,200
Room & board (double room and 19-meal/wk. plan)	2,670
General deposit (refundable)	100
Personal expenses (estimate)	570
Books (estimate)	300
Total estimated cost	$10,840*

*There are additional charges for professional students (Occupational Therapy, Optometry, Physical Therapy and Clinical Psychology) and for those who take private music lessons.

Pacific's Financial Assistance Office administers approximately $4 million in financial assistance funds annually.

Approximately 70 percent of the enrolled students receive assistance and many are involved in campus work-study programs.

It is not necessary to wait until you are admitted to Pacific to file your Financial Aid Form (FAF); however, all students applying for financial assistance should submit the FAF form to the College Scholarship Service as soon as possible after January 1, requesting that a copy be sent to Pacific. The FAF form may be obtained from any secondary school or college counselor, or from the Student Financial Assistance Office at Pacific. Transfer students must request a financial aid transcript from each college or university formerly attended.

Analysis of the submitted financial information will indicate how much an applicant's family can be expected to contribute toward the cost of one year in school. The financial assistance resources of Pacific will be used to help make up the difference between the family contribution recommended by the College Scholarship Service and the cost of a year's attendance at Pacific.

Students must apply each year for renewal of their financial assistance. The University will continue assistance as long as need continues and the student maintains a satisfactory academic record. In addition to the completed application, admission is based on the following criteria:

For Freshmen: High school coursework, SAT or ACT scores, counselor recommendation, optional interview, high school graduation or GED, extra-curricular activities. The average GPA of last year's freshman class was approximately 3.2, while the SAT combined average was just under 1000.

For Transfer Students: Applicants should have a minimum 2.0 GPA for all college-level work. Strength of the academic program is given strong consideration. Transfer students receive full credit for most academic courses at the baccalaureate level completed with a grade of 'C' or better. Test scores (SAT or ACT) and a high school transcript are required of all transfer students with less than 30 semester hours of credit.
